A Symposium to mark the contribution of Paul Stein in the field of environmental and planning law

About this event

Paul Stein AM has made an enormous contribution to the development of environmental and planning law in Australia. As a Judge on the Land and Environment Court from 1985 to 1997 and as a Judge on the NSW Court of Appeal from 1997 to 2005 his contribution to the creation of the jurisprudence of environmental law was exceptional.

This Symposium brings together judges, lawyers and academics to acknowledge his contribution and also to examine the state of environmental law in Australia today. This important and exciting event brings together key environmental law practitioners and will provide a great opportunity for questions and discussion on the future of environmental law in Australia.

The Symposium will be followed by drinks with a toast in honour of Paul Stein to be made by Justice Terry Sheahan AO.

The Australian Environment and Planning Law Group of the Legal Practice Section of the Law Council of Australia is pleased to invite you to attend this Symposium.
